The 1967 Angelus

The 1967 Angelus reflects a Leavitt as diverse, colorful, and shifting as the autumn leaves. Freshmen have survived the sting of sophomore scorn and look forward to becoming scorning sophomores themselves, while seniors are anxiously waiting to become freshmen again. The juniors have miraculously survived Mrs. Biscoe's history classes, and the sophomores are awaiting their chance at her.

Leavitt is a mixture of disappointment and hope, strife and harmony, expectation and fulfillment. May this Angelus capture for you the leavitt of 1967 in all its facets.

SENIORS

To the Class of 1967:

During your high school days, you have been made aware of the importance of doing your best scholastically so that a good job will be a reality after graduation from high school or college.

True, you must continue to use your native intelligence to maintain the scholastic level that you have achieved, but this achievement is only one of the many facets of an intelligent person.

Sometimes, in this highly competitive society, we lose sight of the fact that sincerity, honesty, and general lack of hypocrisy are what employers seek above all else in a person.

One should never be lulled into false security by feeling that a high academic performance will cover up deficiencies in these other areas.

Sincerely,

John R. Biscoe

Senior Officers

John Nutting—Vice President
Vicky Wade—Secretary
Arthur Dunn—President
Ronnie Whetzel—Treasurer

Dedication

TO THE CLASS OF 1966

As the first class to graduate from Leavitt High School you have reached one of the highlights in the field of progress. Through your citizenship, scholarship, and sports you have upheld the ideals of the school. I am very happy to have had a share in this progress of growth.

As the years go by you will cherish your brief stay at Leavitt.

To the Class of 1966 I extend my sincerest wishes for the future, and many thanks for the honor you have bestowed upon me.

Humbly and Gratefully,

Louise Hamlin

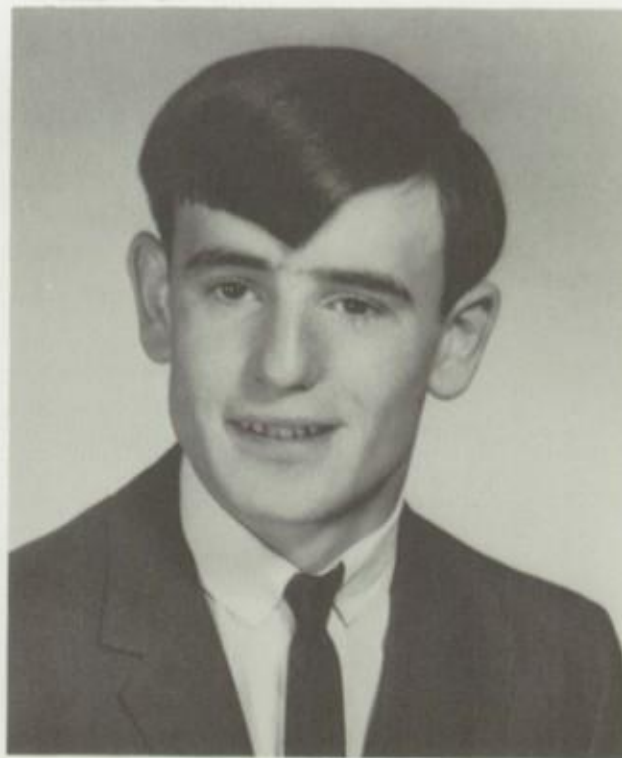

for her band-aids, cough drops and the concern which accompanies them . . . for the graham crackers she brings out of hiding at snack time . . . for the volumes she can find on any subject, particularly obscure ones . . . for the latest up-to-the date newspapers . . . for the rides home after drama practice, and the cokes and cookies while there . . . for not watching the senior home room too closely during free activity periods . . . for being the kind of friend it's nice to have next door . . . for all these reasons and more we sincerely dedicate the 1967 Angelus to Mrs. Louise Hamlin.

the class of '67

Green's ball, Thank you

Would you believe . . .

What next Charlie Brown?

"Oops--missed"

Only a "pro" would understand

Oh! they moved the basket again

Two quarters and only 90 points
